Member Benefits

Community Development Advocates of Detroit (CDAD) is Detroit's association of community development organizations (CDOs) and Neighborhood Improvement Organizations (NIOs). We work to enhance the capacity and effectiveness of Detroit's community-based organizations and initiatives and residents through advocacy, training, technical assistance, information sharing, education, networking, expanding financial resources and facilitating common action. CDAD is tackling a new vision for moving beyond bricks and mortar and working as the catalyst for the transformation of Detroit's neighborhoods led and inspired by residents, community based organizations, and neighborhood stakeholders.

MEMBER BENEFITS

Joint membership with Community Economic Development Association of Michigan (CEDAM) for eligible CDOs: Discounts on training and professional development services, member-only funding alerts, and more.

Monthly-E Update: Members stay informed of local, statewide and national industry trends. The update provides a platform for members to broadcast events, new programs, and best-practices that pertain specifically to Detroit.

Bi-monthly General Membership Meetings: Unique opportunities to network and share resources with a robust network of potential partners and allies.

Media List: Members have access to a relevant local media list to promote their work.

Advocacy and Public Policy: Members can influence public policy by advancing a collective voice that represents the interests of communities & the organizations that represent them (e.g. CDBG reform, Detroit Works Project, etc.)

Information from CEDAM: Members benefit from regular e-newsletters from our state trade association.

Training & Professional Development: Partner organizations offer workshops and trainings to increase member organizations' knowledge of relevant and timely industry topics and best-practices.

CDAD Membership Directory: Member organizations are included in an online directory that will not only enhance organizations' exposure to other stakeholders in the field.

Technical Assistance: CDAD facilitates technical assistance for members to help them respond to demanding and shifting neighborhood needs.

Organized Peer-to-Peer Learning Exchanges: CDAD facilitates learning opportunities driven by peer learning, as requested by members.

Forum for Collaboration: CDAD is a forum where neighborhoods can facilitate collaborative partnerships and resource and information sharing.
